

ABSTRACT

Oligomers are disclosed that include a polyol portion, which includes a polyol modified with a fatty acid, and a free radical curable portion. The oligomers are substantially free of any ester linkages formed from the reaction of the polyol portion with a compound having more than one functional group. Compositions, such as coating compositions, comprising such oligomers are disclosed. Methods for using the present compositions are also disclosed.